KILL MOSQUITOES

While Swallowing Flies Don't Forget The Singing Nuisance.

At the last meeting of the Civic League, attention was called to the mosquito nuisance, and the members asked to take it under personal consideration, and each one resolve himself into a committee of one to see if she could not evolve some plan by which we could get rid of this pest. I wonder how many people in the city know, including our reverend city fathers that Hopkinsville is as much noted for a breeding place for mosquitoes as it is for good schools? And one is most certainly an offset for the other. For at least four months in the year, and that during the time when outdoor life should be a joy and blessing—life in this town is made hideous by hordes of hungry mosquitoes, and one is forced to stay indoors or be devoured by them. If it were an impossible thing to get rid of them, why then we would be resigned to our lot, and take it as one of the necessary evils of life. But that is not the case. We CAN and SHOULD get rid of them and that right now. We all know and remember what a grand work Governor General Wood did for Havana and for all Cuba by ridding that lovely island of the death dealing "stigmoma" that caused the germs of Yellow Fever. Again we remember the grand work done in New Orleans along the same lines, and in Panama also. Today, Havana and New Orleans are healthy, and delightful residence cities, and in Panama it is said a mosquito dares not raise its voice. In fact, there are none there, and that fever ridden zone is now as healthy as anywhere in this country. What has been done on a large scale can be done much easier on a smaller one, and it is UP to US, to each one of us, to make it OUR business to eliminate the mosquito.

The bulletins issued on the subject all tell us, that practically we all raise our own mosquitoes. It is a common fallacy that they breed in ponds and rivers and large bodies of water only. Well, they do to a certain extent, but not in moving water, and so adaptable are they that they breed in almost any damp spot. A discarded tin can, or a piece of broken crockery that will hold an inch of water becomes a fertile source of propagation, and the holes in and around our homes where puddles form are also favorite breeding grounds. Our cisterns if not well and closely covered become infected by them, as all of us at times have seen the wiggle tails drawn up from them, and these wigglers become mosquitoes.

Like flies, mosquitoes carry germs of diseases. It is well known that in the tropics and south they disseminate yellow fever, and in temperate climates, malaria and malarial fever, and they are under strong suspicion in regard to other diseases.

Now, let us consider the remedy for this pest. And many of the rules that apply for the elimination of flies are good for mosquitoes. Both equally dislike kerosene and the use of it is fatal to their eggs. If anywhere you have a low, damp place on your premises, put coal oil around it and if it is a breeding place for mosquitoes, it will destroy them. Do not throw broken crockery and old tins around, but either bury them or have them carted away.

Keep all receptacles for garbage clean and dry and well covered, and if any one is so unwise or unsanitary as to allow a slop can or barrel on their premises, keep it closely screened and give it a dose of Kerosene often. As to the city, would it not be wise for our council to have all the sewers flooded, say, once a week, after they had had coal oil poured into them and around the mouths of them; and all these stagnant pools of water covered once a week with kerosene. The remedy is simple and at hand why not use it and rid our town of the only drawback it has, and make it clean, safe and sanitary. A worthy bearer of its beautiful name—"The Pearl of the Pennyridge."

"SUFFRAGETTE MOVEMENT."

Former Hopkinsville Woman Is Chosen Second Vice President of the Organization.

Oklahoma editors, who held their twentieth annual convention not long ago at Chickasha have placed the destinies of the Oklahoma Press association for another year in the following hands: President Horace W. Shepherd; Altus Times; first vice president George Smith; Chandler Tribune; second vice president Mrs. Frank Russell, Hunter Enterprise; third vice president M. C. Folkenburg, Miami Record Herald; Secretary, Cony Bronson, Thomas Tribune. It is not very often that men elect a woman to high office. However, they may do so more frequently when the suffragette movement becomes a success. In any event, that is just what the Oklahoma Editors did when they elected Mrs. Russell as second vice president, and it was a unanimous choice too.

Mrs. Russell will be remembered by the people of Hopkinsville as Miss Annie Syper, who left Kentucky for the West about twenty years ago.

The attendance at the last annual meeting exceeded that of any other previous meeting.

Tourists Cremated.

Tokio, Japan, Aug. 16.—More than 30 persons, half of whom are believed to be foreign tourists, were probably burned to death Tuesday in a violent eruption of Mt. Asamninety miles distant.

The victims formed two parties
that were climbing the mountain.
They were near the summit when an explosion hurled tons of melting lava from the crater and threw out flashes.

BULLS FIGHT

Over The Prostrate Form of a Boy.

Madisonville, Ky., Aug. 16.—But for the fact that an old bull came to his rescue when Delma Moore, aged 16 years, was being attacked by a young bull in his father's cow pasture here, the young man would likely have been stamped to death.

Moore went into the field to drive the cows home. The young bull attacked him. The boy was knocked down. His leg was broken in the fall and the bull gored him, rendering him unconscious.

His father, standing several rods
away, saw the conflict and started to the boy's aid. At this juncture an old bull, close to the boy, rushed at the younger animal and butted
the latter away. The younger bull made desperate lunges to again get at the boy, but in each instance the older animal acted as a guard. The lad's injuries are serious.

Grand Old Man.

hind me and my career is made. It grace and tranquil heart the note of warning that I am no longer wanted and that I must fall back in the ranks. If you order me to the ranks

I will take up my musket and will follow McCreary, even if he leads to hell."—Henry Watterson's parting shot to the democratic convention.

SCHEME OF POOR PARISIANS

Get Foremost Places in Hospital Waiting Lines and Sell Them to Those Really Sick.

The boy messenger has of late years made a great difference to the queue outside theater doors on a first night, and here in Paris, where the boy messenger is far less common than at home, a popular first night or a free performance of the opera gives employment to a large number of poor people who sell their places in the line to amateurs. But these poor people have discovered a novel and remunerative way now
of using the spare time which is so very rarely money in their case. The Paris hospitals are by no means as well managed as hospitals at home,
and out patients, or patients applying for admission, are very often kept waiting their turn longer than their strength can stand. The queue experts have discovered this fact,
many of them, no doubt, through sad experience, and many of them
now make it their business to attend this or that hospital to take a foremost place in the waiting crowd and sell these places to the real sick, who are delighted to pay 5d. or 10d. for the privilege of seeing the doctor an hour or two earlier. There is no end to the ingenuity of the poor Parisian or the poor of any big town
who live by their wits, but proxy
for invalids is certainly a novelty in the money-making methods of civilization.—Paris Correspondence
London Evening Standard.

OLD AGE OUT OF FASHION

Civilized Man or Woman of Seventy Now Younger Than the Savage of Forty.

Careful studies and measurements have shown that our time of actual maturity and arrest of growth in physical characters, such as height, weight and chest girth, is much later than formerly supposed.
Instead of reaching, as was at one time confidently stated, our full height at eighteen, our full strength
at twenty-three and our full chest girth at twenty-five, as a matter of fact we continue to increase slowly, it is true, in all these respects until thirty-five, thirty-eight and even forty years of age.

By living a healthful, active,
happy life and keeping up all our interests, we can grow and develop and adjust ourselves and feel that we are growing until we are one day suddenly dead, without ever realizing in any distressing or painful way that we are growing old at all.

Already old age has gone quite out of fashion. The civilized, educated man or woman of seventy is younger than the savage of forty or the peasant of fifty. What with steady spread of regular vacations and country or suburban homes and walking clubs and golf and gardens and automobilism and travel of all sorts, those who would have been considered old once are now only seventy or seventy-five years young.

ton Magazine.

CAREER OF HEROISM CLOSES

Passing of Mrs. Janet Helen King,
Who Was Angel of Mercy on Many Battlefields.

A career of heroism on the battlefields of Europe and Africa has closed by the death of Mrs. Janet Helen King of Purley, Middlesex, England. When only about nineteen years old she was one of a party sent out to assist in nursing the troops engaged in the war between Russia and Turkey. After the party lost its way, and the night was passed in open carts, bitter cold and the howling of wolves effectually preventing sleep. To Sister Janet's care were allotted some 200 patients who lay in huts scattered amongst the hills. Daily as she trudged through the snow from hut to hut on her mission of mercy, she was exposed to attacks from the wild dogs that infested Bulgaria. More than once these brutes had her down,
but her stick and dagger protected
her until her cries brought assistance. At the close of the war she received the Imperial Order of the Red Cross of Russia. She went out, too, to the Zulu war, and at Utrecht 3,200 sick and wounded passed through her hands.

ECCLESIASTICAL LATIN.

For some time the pope and the vatican authorities have been occupied considering the pronunciation of Latin in the churches. While in the churches of France and some in England one hears "Deus qui fecit coelum et terram," the Italians say "Deus qui fecit telchelum" and the Germans "Fetsit tseloum." It follows that Roman Catholics when away from home find these divergencies on pronunciation somewhat difficult to follow; so the vatican is of opinion that there should be a uniformity of pronunciation. If there be any result from the vatican deliberations, it may be surmised that the Italian form will be adopted as most nearly that of the ancient Romans.

HOW CHINA LIVES.

No natural resource is too trifling
to be turned to account by the teeming population. The sea is raked and strained for edible plunder. Seaweed and kelp have a place in the larder. Great quantities of shellfish no bigger than one's finger-nail, are opened and made to yield a food that finds its way far inland. The fungus that springs up in the grass after a rain is eaten. Fried sweet potato vines furnish the poor man's table.
The roadside ditches are bailed out for the sake of fishes no longer than one's finger.

Careful observers say that four-fifths of the conversation among common Chinese relates to food.—

Who Was There That You Knew?

IN the shadowy ranks of those who marched to defeat or death or victory fifty years ago in the mighty conflict that convulsed this great nation, is there father or grandfather or uncle of yours? Would you like to see a photograph of him in that long ago day of his youth—a photograph that he never knew was taken? Perhaps we can show you one; and in any case, we can tell you a story, stranger than any detective fiction, of 3,500 priceless photographs that were lost and are found again.

3,500 Long Buried Photographs
of the Civil War

THEY were taken by the greatest photographer in the United States of that day; they were bought by the United States Government for $30,000; they were buried in the War Department for 50 years—they are buried there still. But a duplicate set was kept by the photographer—who died poor and broken down; that duplicate set was knocked from pillar to post for nearly 50 years, until it was discovered by a New England collector, J. Pierpont Morgan (tried to secure the collection—Ex-President Garfield and General Pershing P. Butler said it was worth $150,000—yet with the help of the Review of Reviews, the entire collection has been gathered into 10 great volumes and is placed within your reach at less than the value of one of the photographs.
It is the one accurate, impartial history of the Civil War—for the camera cannot lie. It tells the story of the War you never heard before. Taken under protection of the Secret Service, these photographs bring to light thousands of little-known phases of the war; they penetrate to strange places and record strange things.

RAVAGES OF FOREST FIRES

Loss Estimated at $150,000,000 in One Year Laid to Carelessness of Woodsmen.

With a total estimated forest fire loss for the entire country last year ranging from $150,000,000 to $200,000,000, and causing the death of several hundred persons, uneasy indeed must rest the knowledge upon any woodsman, experienced or amateur, that he caused a fire which may be contributed in this loss of life and property, says Guy Elliott Mitchell in the Review of Reviews. On the other hand, the man who extinguished an incipient fire may take just pride in the act.

The way to prevent big fires, as Chief Forester Graves says, is to put them out while they are small. If people are careful not to start fires, or if in case fires do start there are enough people available to fight them, they will gain no headway. The forest service in its posted notice lays down a few simple rules to keep in mind when in the woods and particularly requests in case of fire that the forest guards be notified. If the fire has not gained too large headway it may be very possible to check and extinguish it, always remembering that fire runs rapidly up a slope, burns slowly on the crest and travels down hill yet more slowly. Many an incipient fire has been put out by a single guard or ranger, or an experienced camper, using his blanket or a green branch for beating the fire or throwing on loose earth or sand.

CRUSOE IN MANHATTAN.

Another reason why an Englishman is apt to tire of New York with unexpected rapidity is the curious isolation of the city. One feels in New York singularly cut off from the rest of the world and not least from the rest of America. Personally I confess I never really regard myself as in the United States until New York is left behind and I am free of its atmosphere of concentrated self sufficiency. . . . A Londoner who is used to being at the center of things and watching beneath his very eyes the convergence of a thousand worldwide interests not only feels in New York that he has been banished to the outer circumference, but feels also that he has left England without really reaching America.—From the narrative of a revisiting Englishman in Harper's Weekly.

DUTY OF HAPPINESS.

There is no duty so much underrated as the duty of being happy. By being happy, we sow anonymous benefits upon the world, which remain unknown even to ourselves, or when they are disclosed, surprise nobody so much as the benefactor. A happy man or woman is a better thing to find than a five-pound note. He or she is a radiating focus of good will; and their entrance into a room is as though another candle had been lighted. We need not care whether they could prove the forty-seventh proposition; they do a better thing than that, they practically demonstrate the great theorem of the liveableness of life.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

FUTURE OF MOVING PICTURES

Edison Tells of the Possibilities in This Field That Soon May Be Developed.

An interview with Thomas A. Edison in the New York Dramatic Mirror quotes the great inventor as saying that the future of the motion picture is almost unlimited. He calls attention to the obvious educational value of pictures in connection with work in the elementary schools such as the teaching of history, geography and literature. He is sure that the future of the motion pictures in the amusement world is a great one and he concludes the subject with the following comment upon the development of moving pictures in regard to the work of the great actors:

"That will be only another development of the art. At the present time the works of the greatest singers are indelibly recorded in phonograph and talking machine records and will be capable of reproduction for centuries to come. These records make it possible for all music lovers to enjoy good music. They will undoubtedly cultivate a higher musical taste in this country. The same thing is true of the motion picture, and especially when it is effectively combined with the phonograph. The great actors and actresses are able in their short lives to reach only a fraction of the public. If their gestures and words are recorded by moving pictures and the phonograph, they can be seen, heard and appreciated by every man, woman and child in the country, not only now, but for 100 years to come."

IS BEST OF BURGLAR ALARMS

Man Refused to Sign Lease Until He Learned Neighbor Was Taking Fresh Air Cure.

Every reader has his own idea of what constitutes a desirable neighborhood," said the renting agent. "A tenant hung back from signing a lease for six hours the other day because I could not tell him whether anybody in the block was taking the fresh-air cure. He was so insistent that I finally made inquiry and learned from the janitor at No. 225 that a man on the third floor of his building sleeps every night with his head stuck out of the window and then the tenant signed the lease."

"His precaution was due to fear of burglars. He has learned, he says, that the best burglar alarm ever invented is the fresh-air cure. Not even the doctors who advise it know so well as the second-story men how many people sleep with their heads out of the window. They know because the habit interferes with their business. Whole blocks that used to be profitable hunting grounds for burglars are now so much waste space because two or three persons in the block go to bed with the upper half of the body protruding beyond the window sill. Outdoor sleepers may sleep comfortably, but they sleep lightly. The second-story man cannot make a noise half a block away without waking them and giving the alarm."

CHILD SAVED SISTER.

Little five-year-old Marguerite Mainguage, whose father is a farmer at Larouchevres, in Anvergne, France, is a real heroine. She was playing with her young sister Genevieve recently, when the child fell into a deep part of a brook. Genevieve picked herself up, but the water was up to her face as she stood. She cried out for help. Marguerite held her, and at last succeeded in pulling her out of the brook. When their mother and some neighbors arrived and heard the whole exciting story they were amazed at the marvelous presence of mind and energy displayed by this child of five. Her brave conduct is to be rewarded by the authorities with a medal for saving life.

BLUEBERRIES AND CLAMS.

It is a far cry from clams to blueberries, but nevertheless they are pretty closely related to each other just at present. The clam supply is not over abundant now, and all because the blueberries are ripening. There are many places down the bay where blueberries are to be secured. The men who ordinarily dig clams are picking the berries and making a good penny, so they do not give their attention to the bivalves.—Portland Press.

AMUSING "BULL."

Dr. William H. Welch, president of the American Medical association, was defending the cause of vivisection, and arguing that many thousands of lives have been saved by the knowledge gathered from cutting up animals. Then he made an "Irish bull."
"I deny," he said, with emphasis, "that the animals suffer unspeakable agonies."—Popular Magazine.

ROOM CAREFULLY SEALED.

An eerie tradition is recalled by the death a few days ago of "Squire" Thomas Green of the Old Hall, Poulton-Lancely, Cheshire, England whose family have been in possession of the estate since a period prior to the Norman conquest. There is in Poulton Old Hall a mysterious locked room which has never been opened except by a representative of the Green family. The hall and its lands have sometimes been let, but the Green family have always retained possession of this mysterious room, which is supposed to contain several relics and other family treasures. The last tenant would have given an increased rent for it if he could have had access to this room or could have cleared away the mysterious contents, but the owners refused to give up possession, and so the tenant left.

STRAUSS LED THE STORM

Col. Higginson Tells Story of Musician and His Banging, Crashing Music.

"The late Thomas Wentworth Higginson," said a Harvard instructor, "loved music, but not the extremely technical music of Richard Strauss, Ravel and others of that type. Concerning Strauss and his banging, crashing music, Colonel Higginson used to tell a story. He said that Strauss went one summer on a hunting trip in the mountains. It chanced that on a certain afternoon a terrific thunderstorm descended on the hunting party. Amid ear-splitting thunder and blinding lightning, amid deluges of rain whipped by a roaring wind, the hunters all sought shelter. Where, though, was Strauss? Three friends set out in alarm to look for him. They feared that in the wild chaos of the storm he had fallen down a precipice. After a long while they found him, they found him doing—what do you suppose? Strauss stood bareheaded on the summit of a lofty crag. The lightning played about him in vivid violet flashes; the rain deluged him; the thunder rolled and rumbled around him; the roaring wind flapped his coat tails about his head; and the musician, a ramrod in his hand, was busily engaged on his high crag in conducting the thunderstorm!"

PHOTOGRAPHY AT SEA.

Not the least attractive feature of the modern ocean liner is the completely equipped dark room placed at the disposal of passengers. One or more cabins are set aside for the purpose. The dark room is supplied with metal tanks, running water, racks, trays and all possible equipment, together with electric ruby lamps which may be switched on or off. As a rule, this room will permit several people to work together, if they desire. An experienced photographer is placed in charge, who will coach amateur photographers if desired. A complete stock of photographic supplies is, of course, carried aboard. It is a common sight to see a tourist who has taken a snapshot on deck, for instance, appear a few hours later and display the finished mounted photograph.

OLD-TIME SUMMER DRINKS.

In the old days one braced himself for hot weather with plenty of "cool drinks," that is to say, liquid fire with ice in it. In this respect science is bringing about a notable reform. However the doctors may be divided as to the harmfulness of alcohol in general, they are agreed that it is not the thing for hot weather, and those who are not its slaves carefully avoid it at such times. The day of the mint julep, the gin rickey and other "pegs" supposed to be especially comforting in hot weather has passed, and the world is learning that the best thing about them is the ice.—Springfield Republican.

MGR. RYAN WAS A DIPLOMAT

Archbishop's Witty Evasion of Controversy Between the Two Rival Catholic Publications.

The late Archbishop Ryan of Philadelphia, says The Housekeeper, was a diplomat of the first order, and was possessed of a full share of Celtic wit and kindly humor.

Before the Catholic Standard and the Catholic Times were combined to form one publication there was much rivalry and much controversy between their proprietors and readers as to which was the more truly representative Roman Catholic organ in Philadelphia. Each sought eagerly to gain the official indorsement of the archbishop. On one occasion a prominent layman tried to trap him into a statement as to which of the two publications he preferred.

"Well, I will give you my opinion," said the archbishop deliberately; "It is certain that the Standard is far ahead of the times, and it is equally certain that the Times is much above the standard. Therefore I prefer to regard as most worthy the one which is thus proved to be superior."

Jerome S. Wade Declares That She Is No Wife for Her Penniless Countryman.

Jerome S. Wade, the wealthy Duluth sociologist, was talking at a dinner about the American heiress. "She is beautiful and brilliant, and all that," he said, "but with her millions she is infernally independent. The penniless American youth who weds her has a hard time of it. He is put away in a year or so. Hence, from his point of view, the foreign nobleman is welcome to her, thank you. She is no Easter egg. The penniless nobleman's title holds his end up. The penniless American's end sinks. He is always afraid of being turned out in the cold. He can't call his soul his own."

"I know one of these poor chaps, married to a Philadelphia heiress—she has divorced him since to take on a banker—who once got wrecked at sea. But he was picked up floating on a spar, and from the first port wired to his brother:

"I am saved. Try and break it to my wife."

WHAT IS A REAL VACATION?

How much a man can let up for vacation depends on himself. To dismiss things is supposed to be merely a matter of volition. And the vacation means to dismiss cares or it means nothing. Put the will to a changed task and so occupy it. An active vacation is best. It is impossible to do nothing long. To sleep is a matter of intervals. To throw away time, if it is habitually highly valued when at the office, is impossible. One gets out an old envelope and begins to figure on the back of it. Do something that you like to do, that has no wage attached, that needs no one's approval when done but your own. That is real fun and genuine rest.

THEIR RECORD.

"How is the woman's fire department in your suburb getting along?" "Pretty well. They've had their engine out several times sprinkling the members' lawns, and they've held several dozen parades. Yes, and they gave a costume exhibit at the Japanese suffragette lawn fete and soaked all the refreshments." "But haven't they had any serious work—no actual fires?" "Why, yes, they've been called out twice, but the first time the forelady forgot her switch and had to go home and get it, and the other time they were stopped on Main street by a bargain sale and two barns burned down!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Peoria, Ill.—"I wish to let every one know what Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies have done for me. For two years I suffered. The doctors said I had tumors, and the only remedy was the surgeon's knife. My mother bought me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and today I am a healthy woman. For months I suffered from inflammation, and your Sanative Wash relieved me. Your Liver Pills have no equal as a cathartic. Any one wishing proof of what your medicines have done for me can get it from any druggist or by writing to me. You can use my testimonial in any way you wish, and I will be glad to answer letters."—Mrs. CHRISTINA REED, 105 Mound St., Peoria, Ill.

Another Operation Avoided. New Orleans, La.—"For years I suffered from severe female troubles. Finally I was confined to my bed, and the doctor said an operation was necessary. I gave Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial first, and was saved from an operation."—Mrs. LILY PEYRON, 1111 Kerlerec St., New Orleans, La.

The great volume of unsolicited testimony constantly pouring in proves conclusively that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a remarkable remedy for those distressing feminine ills from which so many women suffer.

KILLED AS A WITCH.

News of a tragedy of superstition in an Irish cabin comes to hand. Going to the police at Clontarf, County Mayo, the other morning, a woman named Mary Anne Feeney said to the officers, "I have killed a witch." Police went to a little roadside cabin where Feeney lived with an old age pensioner named Norah Conniffe, and there they found Conniffe terribly injured. She was unconscious and died shortly afterwards. Investigation shows that Feeney was seized with the idea that her companion was a witch, and it is alleged she stripped her of all her clothing and ordered her to fetch some water. The woman refusing, Feeney then took a bar off the door and beat her unmercifully, inflicting terrible injuries.

A DEDUCTION.

"Say, Pa," said little Johnny, after an hour or two of deep reflection, "if I put a lemon and some sugar in a pail of water would that be lemonade?"

"Yes, my son, yes—of course it would," replied Mr. Squiggles from behind his newspaper.

"Well, then," continued Johnny, edging toward the door, "if that's the case I suppose if I put a piece of artillery and some gunpowder in a barrel of water it would be a can-nade, wouldn't it?"—Harper's Weekly.

STRONG DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM AS ADOPTED BY CONVENTION

On National Issues.

Sec. 1.—We, the democrats of Kentucky, in delegate convention duly assembled and held in the city of Louisville, Ky., on August 15, 1911, do hereby pledge anew our faith and devotion to the time-honored and eternal principles of our party first promulgated in the declaration of independence and since reaffirmed in successive platforms of the party, and we especially reaffirm our faith in and devotion to the National Democratic platform adopted at Denver, Colo., in the year, 1908.

Sec. 2.—We denounce the Republican party and the present Republican president for their flagrant and willful betrayal of the trust reposed in them by the American people and call attention especially to the fact that they have willfully disregarded their pre-election promises to the effect that they would revise downward the unjust tariff system and would relieve the masses of the people of the heavy burdens of unjust and unnecessary taxation.

On the contrary; the Republicans enacted the odious Payne-Aldrich tariff law in 1909, pronounced by Mr. Taft to be "the best Republican tariff law ever passed," and which law was a gross breach of faith of the Republican president and his political party. This tariff law, in order to enrich the few, increased the burdens of the many, and authorized those favored few not only to continue, but to increase, their robbery of the many under the forms of law.

Sec. 3.—We point with pride to, and heartily endorse, the patriotic record made by the present Democratic members of congress and Democratic senators, in their efforts, over determined Republican opposition to, in good faith, redeem the promises of the Democratic party to repeal unjust and oppressive Republican laws, and to enact wise and just laws for the benefit of the great masses of the people, and we invite all to contrast the aims and records of the Democrats in the house and senate of the present session of congress with the aims and record of the Republicans and especially with the Republican session of 1909, which enacted the Payne-Aldrich tariff law.

We especially endorse the record of our Democratic congressman and senator from Kentucky for their fidelity in keeping the promises of their party and representing the people and not the interests, and we denounce the record of the Republican congressmen and senator from Kentucky because they have represented not the people nor have they sought to relieve their burdens, but have represented the privileged, protected interests of the country.

On State Issues.

Sec. 4.—Kentucky is, and of right ought to be, a Democratic state, and the Democratic party in appealing for the support of the electorate of the state eagerly invites an intelligent comparison of the records it has made with those made by its political adversary during the temporary occasions it has controlled the affairs of the state.

As against the Republican record in Kentucky of assassination, bloodshed and disregard for law, we present the Democratic picture of peace, scrupulous regard for human life and a strict observance of, and respect for, law; as against an empty treasury, and rejection and shaming of honest demands against the state, we present a picture of a magnificent state capitol erected and paid for without any extra tax, and every just claim against the state promptly met and paid in full; as against platform pledges and promises broken and made to be broken, we present a record of all pledges and promises, faithfully kept; as against hypocrisy, demagoguery and incompetency we present a record of sincerity, fidelity, competency and statesmanship.

We charge the Republican party, both in the state and in the nation, with gross extravagance and willful waste in the expenditure of the people's money, and we pledge ourselves to retrenchment and reform and to an economical, business administration of public affairs.

Sec. 5.—We are in favor of conducting all primary elections under lawful authority and at public expense, and to be regulated in the same manner and subject to the same penalties, for violations, as in case of regular elections.

Sec. 6.—We favor the enacting of such additional laws as will make our entire common school system more efficient and more practical.

We pledge our support to our school system and the educational institutions of the state, wisely and economically administered. Money appropriated for the education of the people is an investment and not an expense; school trustees, school boards and all school officials should be held rigidly responsible for adequate returns on every dollar so invested. We charge the Republican party with neglect and indifference towards our school system.

Recognizing that a large majority of the teachers of our common schools are women and that women are now eligible to be elected school trustee, county school superintendent, and to hold office, and are frequently so elected, we favor the extension to women of suffrage in all school elections, subject to such wise regulations as to qualifications as the general assembly may determine.

Sec. 7.—We favor such laws as will, under appropriate penalties, destroy all corrupt lobbying seeking to influence any legislative body in the commonwealth on the subject of legislation or the election of officers by it, or in any other matter; but we recognize the constitutional right of the people to petition and to be impartially heard on all questions.

Sec. 8.—We favor, under wise and proper restrictions, the creation of a state utilities commission, having ample powers to discharge its duties.

Sec. 9.—We favor the removal and divorcement of the management of our state penitentiaries and state penal institutions from politics and favor a law providing for the appointment of prison commissioners by the governor, with the advice and consent of the senate, instead of their election by the general assembly.

Sec. 10.—We favor a law requiring that a uniform system of accounting be installed and conducted in all public offices charged with the collection and disbursement of public moneys.

Sec. 11.—We favor the general assembly submitting to a vote of the people an amendment of our state constitution broadening the powers of the general assembly, so that it may classify property for the purposes of taxation; but we are opposed to any law the effect of which would be to lighten the burdens of taxation on the wealthy and on corporations at the expense of the poor, the farmer or the laboring man.

Sec. 12.—Temperance is essentially a moral, non-political, and social question and should not be made a partisan issue between political parties.

We favor the extension of the present local option law, as applied to the sale of liquors, and which has been upheld by our highest court as valid and constitutional, so that the citizens of each and every county in the state may determine for themselves whether spirituous, vinous or malt liquors may be sold therein.

Sec. 13.—We favor organization and co-operation among the farmers and laborers of the state and the enactment of such constitutional laws as will protect them from the greed and oppression of the trusts and monopolies of the country, which are the direct fruit of Republican legislation.

Sec. 14.—We favor such wise and conservative laws as will encourage road and bridge building in Kentucky, and we favor reasonable state aid for the construction of roads and bridges, but only on condition that each county or local community, which is primarily benefited, shall first do its part and discharge its duty to itself in this regard.

Sec. 15.—We favor the creation, removed from politics, of a department of banking, providing for competent inspection of all our state financial institutions, and similar to the system now existing for national banks.

Sec. 16.—We favor the enactment of such wise laws as will put into effect all sections and provisions of the state constitution, and we declare that we are in favor of the enforcement of all laws.

Sec. 17.—We favor the enactment of wise laws for the protection from accident and injury of all laborers engaged in hazardous employments, and we favor a wise, conservative law regulating the arbitration of labor strikes and disputes.

Sec. 18.—We favor a law prohibiting peonage and female slave traffic, regardless of color.

Sec. 19.—We are opposed to all mobs and lynchings and are in favor of imposing the severest penalty possible, under our constitution, on all officers who fail to protect prisoners entrusted to their keeping.

Sec. 20.—The Democratic party has always been the party of religious as well as of civil liberty in Kentucky, and in the republic. It refers with pride to its noble and consistent record on this important question so "dear to every true American heart." We are in full accord, both in letter and in spirit, with the teachings of Thomas Jefferson, the founder of our party on this question and with the provisions of our state and federal constitutions, and we are unalterably opposed to raising any religious test as a qualification for holding any office in the state or nation.

Sec. 21.—We favor the nomination and election of United States senators by direct vote of the people.

Sec. 22.—We denounce and are opposed to Cannonism or one-man power in all representative assemblies whether it be in the congress or in representative conventions. We favor the "rule of the people."

Sec. 23.—The good or rather the bad, faith of the Republican party of Kentucky in declaring for a non-partisan judiciary is in this, as in all other Republican platform pledges, shown by the fact that it has taken as its nominee for governor one of the judges of our appellate court, who, in order to enter a partisan contest to secure the nomination of his party for governor, has for months abandoned his important sworn duties as judge of the court of appeals, and has announced as his purpose not to resign from the high office whose duties he neglects, but that he will continue to fail and refuse to discharge his duties as judge until he shall conclude his present partisan campaign, notwithstanding that all the while he is promptly collecting from the people, monthly, his full salary at the rate of $5,000 per annum. This conduct of Hon. E. C. O'Rear, as judge of the court of appeals, presents a deplorable example, to all subordinate judges and officers of the commonwealth, of neglect of duty, and will encourage like conduct and neglect of duty in all other officers and is well calculated to undermine respect for law itself and for judges and courts among the masses of our people; it is unprecedented in our history, and we declare it to be scandalous.

Sec. 24.—On this platform of principles and on the aims and purposes of our party in the state and in the nation we appeal to all Kentuckians, irrespective of previous political affiliations, who are proud of the past and desire a still more prosperous and more progressive present and future, for all our people, to support our magnificent state ticket, including our nominee for United States senator and our nominees for general assembly and for other offices.

CONCLUSION.

Sec. 25.—In conclusion we call the attention of Kentuckians to the fact that Democratic principles are triumphant in the nation and in almost every state and that the Republican party everywhere is professing to adopt Democratic principles in its platforms, but we warn them that the Republicans of this state have placed in their platform some progressive Democratic doctrines not with a view to carry them out, or to attempt to carry them out, in good faith, in the improbable event of their success at the polls next November, but only for the present purpose of catching votes and deceiving the people so that they might get the offices and emoluments thereof. The broken promises of the present Republican state and national administrations as well as the entire history of the Republican party is sufficient to convince all fair-minded citizens of the insincerity of the Republican party and that it is not the party of the people; while on the other hand the record and history of the Democratic party in the nation and in the state, conclusively establish its devotion to duty and its purpose in good faith to redeem all platform pledges made to the people.

Dread of an Operation.

N. Manchester, Ind.—Mrs. Eva Bashore, of this place, says, "I suffered female misery of every description. Two doctors attended me, and advised an operation. I lost weight until I weighed only ninety pounds. I dreaded an operation, and, instead, began to take Cardui. In a short time, I gained 25 pounds, and feel as well as I ever did. Cardui, I am sure, saved my life." Cardui is today used in thousands of homes, where it relieves pain and brings back strength and ambition. It is a woman's medicine, for women's ailments, and you are urged to try it for your troubles. Ask your druggist. He will tell you about Cardui.

Failures About Paper.

Chinese rice paper, said Lord Redcliffe in his address before the Royal Photographic society, had no rice whatever in its composition. That curiously brittle, pure white material used for the marvelous drawings of Chinese artists was manufactured from the pith of a tree peculiar to Formosa.

His lordship also stated that the first paper was never made of raw cotton. The Chinese did not use it, and history began with the making of rag paper, both in Arabia more than ten centuries ago, and also in Europe when the Crusaders, having brought the industry westward, the first paper manufactory was established in the last years of the thirteenth century.—Westminster Gazette.

Hogwallow News

(Hogwallow Kentuckian.)

Washington Hocks is back from the village of Buzzard Knob, where he went to find out what I-arc Hell-wanger paid for a cow he had been trying to sell him for nine dollars.

The Excelsior Fiddling Band was summoned to the Wild Onion School house Saturday night to furnish music for the magic lantern show, but the base fiddle jarred the lamp chimney off and put out the lights.

The blacksmith at Bounding Billows died a few days ago and was buried among the blackberry bushes in the Gander creek graveyard. He ordered a headboard put up at once with his name on it, so the public would know that he was no longer in business.

Tobe Moseley's clock has run down again. Somehow this clock has never been able to keep up with the progress of time and has caused Tobe and his family no end of worry. On one occasion it got so far behind that it caused Tobe to miss planting his potato crop altogether.

Idea in Paper Manufacture.

It is proposed to manufacture paper from pulped blue-gum timber. Tests have been carried out at English paper mills and are said to give a product equal to that made from African esparto grass.

Giant of Cerne Abbas Deeply Cut in the Hard Turf of Dorset, England.

On the side of a steep down in the old town of Cerne Abbas, Dorset, England, a huge figure of a man appears cut deeply in the hard turf. It is a creation of a period hidden in the mists of antiquity. The body resembles that of the simian, the arms are unusually long and outstretched, as are the legs. The right hand grasps the handle of an enormous club, and the general attitude suggests pursuit of game.

The head seems sunk between the shoulders and the face, which is roughly cut, exhibits an uncanny leer.

Students of types attribute "the giant, as the Dorset figure is called, to the bronze age. The figure has been cared for throughout the centuries of its existence. Originally it is supposed to have been regarded as bringing good luck to the people during the Celtic and early English epochs. It receives attention now on account of its quaintness and age.

The Dorset giant is incised in the turf after the manner of the Long Man of Wilmington and the White Horses of Berkshire and elsewhere. The turf is so hard that the outlines of the figure have been preserved intact for many centuries.

HOW TEXAS WILL CELEBRATE

To Spend $25,000,000 on Roads in Honor of One Vote That Resulted in Annexation.

Twenty-five millions of dollars is a large sum to pay out in return for one vote, but the state of Texas is going to spend that amount during the coming year as a result of one solitary vote cast in the state of Indiana many years ago. The curious explanation is as follows:

The annexation of Texas to the Union was accomplished by a majority of one vote in the senate. The deciding vote was cast by Senator Hennegan of Indiana. Senator Hennegan was elected to the senate by one vote in the Indiana house. That vote was cast by Madison Marsh, who was elected to the legislature by one vote. If Texas could discover the identity of the man who cast the one vote that elected Madison Marsh the state would probably name a new county after him. In lieu of that, however, Texas is going to spend the $25,000,000 on its roads.

NO REMEDY.

"After the circus parade had passed yesterday," wearily said the landlord of the Polkville (Ark.) tavern, "them two young ladies, Maxine and Lucille, that wait table here, got into sort of a dispute over which of 'em it was that the clown had winked at, each claimin' the credit, or discredit, I don't know which. One illustrated her views by beating the other over the head with the dinner bell, while the other voiced her opinion with a ketchup bottle. Of course I understand how, being working ladies, they resent all insinuations that they are in any way my inferiors; but still after the ketchup bottle had spread most of its contents over the scene and the clapper had flown out of the bell and broken a window I sorter felt called upon to interfere and stop the fracas.

"No, it ain't worth while to fire 'em. Ladies will be ladies, and there ain't no help for it."—Puck.

THE PARENTS' JOKE.

Some parents seem unable to resist the temptation to make a joke with the Christian names of their children, says the London Chronicle. The Somerset house registers testify to the existence of a Mr. Mineral Waters, a Frosty Winter and an Alfred Days Weeks. There is something to be said in favor of naming children in the order of their arrival—Primus, Secundus, etc.—but it is unfortunate for a well-known Canadian named Cumber that it should have fallen to his lot to be a Quintus, for his name is always appearing in the papers as Mr. Q. Cumber.

HIS HABIT.

"What made you mutilate this handsome new book?" asked the physician's wife. "The first thing you did was to cut out a portion of it and throw it away!"

"Excuse me, my dear," was the regretful answer. "It was professional instinct. The portion you refer to was labeled 'appendix.'"

SCIENCE EVOLVES NEW WORD

"Esophagotomy" Means Looking Down the Esophagus for Foreign Obstructions or Injuries.

"Esophagotomy" is one of the newest words which the scientist of necessity has coined. As science progressed in its many lines, it has been responsible for more "built-up" terms than classic English could have dreamed of.

Take this new word, "esophagotomy." It is a combination of the noun "esophagus," meaning the channel through which the food from the mouth reaches the stomach, while the last two syllables are made of "scope"—as used in telescope, microscope, spectroscope. Thus the combination suggests a way and means for allowing the surgeon to look down the esophagus in search of foreign obstructions or of injuries to the organ.

One of the leading physicians of St. Paul has been gathering statistics showing the enormous number and variety of foreign substances that are swallowed by persons of all ages and which often result fatally. He says that in almost any case of the kind, a pin, needle, button, bone, and even teeth plates are swallowed and in the beginning may be little more than an unpleasantness. Here is the opportunity for using the esophagotomy. Before the sharp substance has a chance to perforate the esophagus the combined mirror and electric light may be inserted, the object seen and removed without harm. If the obstruction is left, however, it starts irritation, becomes a festering wound which almost invariably will cause death.

HADN'T FIGURED IT OUT.

Mrs. Grouchy—What would you do if I were to die?

Grouchy—I can't say, offhand, how I would spend my vacation.

MICROPHONE VALUABLE.

The French inventor Dienert has, according to the Scientific American, contrived an application of the microphone to the discovery of underground water. One end of a tube is inserted in the ground, the upper end being attached to the microphone. The sounds of flowing or dropping water are conveyed to the ear from great depths.

In the Marne valley two springs were discovered with this apparatus at a depth of about fifty feet below the surface of the ground. It is believed that the apparatus will be of great service in mining operations, both for indicating the location of concealed springs and for communicating with imprisoned miners.

HARD TO ESTIMATE TIME.

It is not common to find a person who can correctly estimate the lapse of a single second. But in these days of speeding automobiles the exact time when each of two colliding vehicles must have occupied particular spots may be a matter of great importance. In a recent experiment a car took nearly two seconds to stop after brakes were applied, and in that time it moved nineteen feet. So even fractions of a second are important. One can train himself to estimate even tenths of a second. Try it with a watch, and it will be found that it is just possible to count ten in the lapse of a single second. But one must count fast to do it.

NO WORDS EQUAL TO IT.

"Why does Mrs. Flagg admire her husband so?"

"He dipped his mucilage brush in the ink and said nothing."

SUITABLE.

"Those dress uniforms have a lot of frogs."

"Then they ought to look well at a militia hop."

DIDN'T WANT TO TEND BABY

Buffragist Ideas Took Possession of Little Girl and the Boy Yielded Mildly.

A boy of six and a mite of a girl had started housekeeping on the edge of a vacant East side lot with a barrel, two small American flags left over from Independence day, and a doll made out of an old apron for an outfit, according to the New York Tribune.

"We're pi-neers, Becky," announced the boy, "you sit in th' cabin an' sing th' baby to sleep, an' I'll chop down trees."

For about five minutes she crouched in the open end of the barrel, which lay on its side, and crooned to her "baby." All at once she cast "baby" to the ground and stood up.

"Don't want to tend baby," she said. "Want to cut down trees, too. Pi-neers' wives worked side by side wif dere husbands."

"Who said so?" demanded the small boy.

"The lady what made a speech on the corner here las' night."

"Oh, well," said the "pi-neer" pacifically, "le's both sing 'Star Spangled Banner,' clearin' land's hard work."

"WHEELS" ARE "HEADGEAR"

Tom—Twenty dollars for that simple fall hat? You must be crazy!

Clara—Well, I must say it's going to my head.

A FORECAST.

Travelers in Italy do not readily forget "risotto," nor do travelers in Spain forget "arroz." The principal ingredient of both dishes is rice, but it is brown, and brown rice, besides being delicious, has special healthful qualities of its own. It is brown, of course, because it is made out of whole grain. The tendency, comparatively recent in this country, toward bread foods which contain the rougher parts of the wheat, or which are made from other grain, is likely to be followed some time, we imagine, by the extensive use of brown rice, which at present it is almost impossible to secure, except by special arrangement with importers.—Colliers.

STRANGE BORNEO TRIBE.

There are no more singular people known than the Punan tribe of Borneo. They dress themselves in bark clothing, and wonder about in the forests and sleep in trees. They have no houses and no property except mere personal possessions which they exchange by barter. They have the habit of leaping three or four yards at a time and their speed is said to be marvelous. They kill game with a weapon resembling a blowpipe, not by the usual method of blowing out the arrows with the breath, but by striking the end which contains the dart with the palm of the hand.

RELIC OF FRENCH REVOLUTION.

An ex-voto which formerly belonged to Paul de Barras, the celebrated member of the convention, has been discovered in the Church of Amphoux at Toulon.

Barras, who was a lieutenant of marine infantry on board the warship Actif, was nearly lost in a terrible tempest. In recognition of his miraculous escape he made a pilgrimage, walking bare-footed to the church, carrying a candle. Here he deposited the ex-voto which has just been discovered.

A NATURAL PROBLEM.

"With all his third degree bluffing, the lawyer could not get the truth out of the fellow."

"But truth, you know, lies at the bottom of a well which is not worked by hot-air pumping."

Jackson-Fulton, rain.

In one of the most nerve-racking
contests in the history of baseball, Pop Nairn's aggregation of celebrities, aided by Pres. Dortch's and Petre's eloquence, marched home
with the initial game of the Vincennes series, 4 to 3. It took an extra inning to decide the battle, and not till dear little Chink Yon scampered over the pan with the winning run, did the big grandstand crew
know where the victory would go.

Vincennes started the excitement in the 5th. Green first up hit to right, Yon played with Bowers' sacrifice and threw wild to Ireland and second, Green took 3rd and "Brainy" 2nd. Hargrove then wiggles the pitch—swatted thrice. Anderson, little Dave the ex-Mogul, picks out one in style and sends it creekward.
Jones, after a long run, attacks one finger on it, but it didn't stick.
Green and Bowers ambulate homeward and Anderson rests on third.
Hasseld and Campbell fly, the side retires, 2 runs.

Hopkinsville drew blood in the strenuous seventh. Huhn hits to center, Nairn was donated base on balls, Wilson, the new third station guarder, sacrifices both a peg. Jones hits to left and Huhn scores, Nairn
on third. Cooper sacrifices to deep left, and Nairn arrives in time to tally. Yon agitates the atmosphere Score 2.

In the tenth, with one down, Campbell second up, got life on an error, advanced on Yon's wild heave
to Nairn, and scores on Everett's hit to right. De Haven and Glenn die.
One run.

For the Moguls, Cooper hits in left for one bag, given second when Hasseld punches Yon, Kesling safe sacrifices both a station. Cooper scores the tying run on Ireland's long fly to right. Lyons then steps to the bat, with two down and gets a peach Texan to center. Yon scores the winning run. Score Moguls 4, Alices 3

Pennant Raised.

Just before the game began the flag, won for the first half was

Major Meacham formally presented the flag, calling attention to the fact that Hopkinsville had won 44 out of 49 games and for the whole season
had 12 more than any other team.

FLY TIME

has arrived again. Every horse owner should know that

Fly Nets Are Cheaper

than oats. It requires feed to produce energy, and it takes energy to fight flies.
The price paid for fly nets is saved many times on the amount of feed needed, to say nothing about the comfort of your horses. See the little prices at which we are selling cotton mesh and cord nets;
also leather nets.

FORBES MFG. CO.,

Incorporated.

team. He introduced President Nat
F. Dortch, who spoke as follows:

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

It is a well known fact that the baseball fans of the United States are the hardest people to satisfy and that they are also the first to appreciate a good thing.

The winning of the flag by our team cannot be attributed to baseball
"luck." It was due directly to the clean, sharp fielding, good pitching, the hard and timely hitting and the general inside baseball played, and taught them by our good leader John Nairn.

There is no department of the game that our boys are not proficient in and they have, collectively
speaking, proven that young blood
under the proper direction can win pennants.

Fortunate indeed it is that we can say that our boys play ball together, each striving to help the other and not by any special effort trying to build up a record at the expense of his fellow players. This is one thing ever to remember.

Generally speaking of the good work of our club it is not necessary to individualize; all have done their part.

Take our out-field, where is one to compare to it? Not even in the lesser art of "bumping" can we be excelled. Good judges of balls their way, timely hitters and fleet of foot,
going over their territory as gracefully as an Air-Ship.

The fast snappy work of our infield stands second to none in Class
"D" ball.

Our catching department can only be equalled in higher company.

The variety of work of our slab artists is worthy to behold. Where is there a side-wheeler to compare to Yon? and the feed box that supplies
Johnson and Beasley can only be equalled by the Steam Boat Bill delivery of the youngster, McArthur.
Have you in all your life seen the care a mother takes of her children
that is shown by Mother Nairn.
When 2 or 3 of his boys are lost somewhere around the sacks, see him grab his mighty willow, face
the opposing boxman and with true aim and arm, swat the ball that brings his little ones home?

We have a great team, honestly
they have won their laurels, each and every one a gentleman on or off the field. We are proud of you.

In our victory we are not forgetful of those less fortunate. Eight others are envious of our honors, 6
located in Ky., Ill. and Ind. the other 2 in Clarksville. They have it twice

Much could be said of and for baseball and those engaged therein
but the time is too short to go into that. Suffice it to say that baseball is the cleanest and best sport known, developing the youth of our land to high and greater ideals.

On behalf of the Board of Directors of our club, I now accept your token, Mr. Chairman, and it is our pleasure to place it at the topmost round of the Pole.

LONG MAY SHE WAVE!

LET HER BE UNFURLED!
and show to all fandom that Hopkinsville has achieved a VICTORY.
Boys, KEEP it there and see that nothing ever dishonors it.

While Mr. Dortch was speaking,
F. G. Petre, King of the Bleacher
Fans, folded his green umbrella sun shade and stepping in front of the bleachers did in impassioned oratorical stunt in pantomime, accepting the flag on behalf of the fans.
The attendance was more than 500.

A new umpire, Pierce, officiated,
it being his first appearance here.
He uses his lungs vigorously and guesses at his balls and strikes.

tomorrow, between Hopkinsville and Paducah, will be played at Dawson at 2:15 o'clock. Paducah will be here for games Monday and Tuesday.

Bunts And Flies.

The Cairo Bulletin has picked a questionable all Kitty team. From an embiased standpoint we submit the following pitching staff—Yon of Hopkinsville; Nichols, Paducah; Coleman, Fulton. Catchers Huhn, Hopkinsville and Glem Vincennes; 1st Gust, Harrisburg; 2nd Flood Cairo.
S. S. Ireland, Hopkinsville; 3rd,
Hargrove, Vincennes; c. f; Kesling
Hopkinsville, or Green, Vincennes;
r. f; Lyons, Hopkinsville; l. f; Wolfe Cairo or Calbert, Harrisburg. Fulton not having been here, we can not give her the men she probably deserves.

The Nashville Tennessean has its Kitty table approximately correct for the first time. Hopkinsville is charged with losing 10 games instead of 9, up to Aug. 17.

President Don North made the speech of the occasion.—Vincennes
Sun. Such is fame.

Nashville will try to have another
Sunday ball game to-morrow.

Jackson and Fulton play a double header to-day.

Paducah's new management started by beating Clarksville, Thursday.

Cooper, Hopkinsville's second baseman, has batted 284 to 24 games.

Red the Popular Color.
Red is the color loved by the Bulgarians and few dresses there are not enriched with its brightness. Their dyes are all their own and the red runs to a dark dullness almost infringing on crimson that is a secret carefully guarded and cannot be replaced outside the mountain fastnesses of the little state itself.
